Building Relationships &
Getting Along with Others

Building Relationships & Getting Along with Others

What are the qualities of a strong relationship? Healthy, strong relationships with your parents, siblings, teachers, friends, peers, and other adults in your life is very important! When you're with your friends at school or playing online with them it's important to have respect for each other, to be kind, and listen to one another. The same goes for your siblings and adults in your life.

Skills to Review with Students

Talking with Others

1. Look at the person.
2. Use a pleasant voice.
3. Ask questions.
4. Don't interrupt.

Cooperating with Others

1. Discuss mutual goals or tasks with others.
2. Know what you must do to help accomplish those goals.
3. Give and accept constructive feedback appropriately with peers.
4. Follow rules if you are playing a game and share resources with others.
5. Praise peers' efforts and cooperation.

Listening to Others

1. Look at the person who is talking.
2. Sit or stand quietly; avoid fidgeting, yawning, or giggling.
3. Wait until the person is finished speaking before you speak.
4. Show that you understand (say "Okay," "Thanks," or "I See").

Making an Apology

1. Look at the person.
2. Use a serious, sincere voice tone, but don't pout.
3. Begin by saying "I wanted to apologize for..." or "I'm sorry for...."
4. Do not make excuses or try to rationalize your behavior.
5. Sincerely say you will try not to repeat the same behavior in the future.
6. Offer to compensate or pay restitution.
7. Thank the other person for listening.

Making Friends is an Art

Directions: Think about what you and your friends like about each other (think personality and behavior). Write a different key to friendship on each key in the set below.

I Want to Be the Only Dog

"Siblings" Jake, Kirby, and Angus all want to be the only dog. They don't like sharing the attention or their toys! Luckily, their mom teaches them about conflict resolution, empathy, fairness, and problem solving skills. She helps them understand that "fair doesn't always mean equal".

The Great Compromise

Cora June and her classmate, Wilson, are locked in a battle of wills. Each one wants to be the ultimate decider. Fortunately, they have a great teacher who teaches them that good leaders compromise!

Directions: Unscramble the words below. Then, write a sentence or two about what that word means to you.

cmoseopimr: _____

iratofev: _____

rldeae: _____

pioonni: _____

It's My Way or The Highway

If Cora June doesn't get her way in the classroom, on the playground, or at home, she can make life miserable for those around her. She learns how to be a leader, but still be flexible and that there is a difference between being assertive and being bossy.

Making an Apology

Directions: Think of two situations in which you could apologize to someone. Draw a picture for each situation, or write out what you would say to each person.

I can apologize to...

The Boys Town Education Model

Empowering Learning Communities | Transforming Social Climates

ARE YOU IMPLEMENTING THE BOYS TOWN EDUCATION MODEL IN YOUR CLASSROOM OR SCHOOL?

If so, be sure to take advantage of all the resources we have to help you!

- FREE on-demand webinars you can watch anytime
- Low-cost on-demand training to help you practice the teaching interactions, increase your fluency and confidence and learn more about helping children learn skills and develop their social and emotional competencies.
- Free Social Skills Lesson Plans
- Check out the Boys Town Press for additional resources and books that are designed to support behavior change and skill teaching.

We have many options to meet your needs! The first step is to just have a conversation to talk about your goals and needs. We help you develop a plan that can range from attending an on-campus national workshop to having Boys Town Trainers come to you to train staff, trainers, and consultants. Just like behavior interventions and supports it is not one size fits all.

If you want to learn more about our Model and tools, be sure to visit our website. We have webinars, articles and resources with information on how our model can help you build social and emotional competencies in all students to improve school culture and build positive relationships.
